200 Attend Dedication of New School

Three-Year Period Is Envisioned For Its Completion

Dedication of the new Cielo Vista school was held last night in the multipurpose room of the plant, and some 200 persons attended the ceremonies which included a program of observance of American Education Week.

Acting as master of ceremonies, Ray Sorum, president of the Board of Education, introduced the honored guests following the invocation by Rabbi Leon Rosenberg, and then told the assembly of the history of the new school, how it came to be and how it was made possible "through your approval of the school building bond issue."

SORUM PAID particular recognition to Dr. Benjamin Goldberg and the special Citizens Committee, who worked diligently to inform the people of Palm Springs of the importance of the bond passage.

Two musical selections by the Palm Springs High School Capella Choir under the direction of Alex Hammond, preceded a talk by State Senator Nelson S. Dilworth, who thanked the people of Palm Springs for helping to pass the school building bond proposition at this month's national election.

In his talk, "A Legislator and Schools," Senator Dilworth said that most of the money from the $625,000 State building bonds will be used in districts less fortunate than this; "however," he added, "if the time ever comes that Palm Springs School District is in need of state help, it can be made available."

REFERRING TO Palm Springs action in passing the last bond issue here, the Senator compared this area with the little girl who saved her friend from drowning; In being queried about her heroic deed she said that "it was easier to jump in than to just sit there."

Warren Danielson, principal of Cielo Vista school, introduced the school faculty, and the Rev. W. A. Blondon, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, gave the benediction.

Following the official ceremonies, a tour of the school and its facilities was conducted.

SCHOOL BUS LOOTED

Real Estate Board Plans Own Building

Board President Outlines History Of Cielo Vista

Palm Springs Real Estate Board last night started action on acquiring a building for itself, and tentatively set a goal of three years for realization of this idea, on its twenty-fifth anniversary.

President Theresa Press is currently studying the membership roster of the board, prior to naming a large committee to start definite plans for the construction of a building, and the financing of it. This group will be announced as soon as possible.

The proposal of a building for the local board was made officially for the first time at the general business meeting of the board at the American Legion hall last night by Mrs. Press. More than 100 local Realtors were in attendance.

Ben H. Lewis, president of Land Title Co., featured speaker, also used this subject as his topic.

Having a building of its own lends prestige to a real estate board in a community, and performs a definite public service, Lewis said, as he pointed out that 60 percent of all boards in the state now have such facilities.

He proposed that funds for such a building could best be raised through the Multiple Listing Service of the board, which receives a percentage of every sale made through its service.

Lewis said that the Realtors slogan is "Own Your Own Home," and the Palm Springs Board could adopt this as their own selling point for the next three years.

Village Vetoes Tax Split Again

At the League of Riverside County Cities meeting last night at Deep Well Inn, Palm Springs stood fast again on non-sharing of sales taxes with the county, making its position known to other city representatives.

Under other business discussed by the body, consideration was given to the proposed election of a board of freeholders for the formation of a County Charter, but definite action was put off until the next meeting of the league.

The group voted to skip the meeting in December, and have called its next one for January. The time and date will be announced.

WRANGLING WORSENS IN KREMLIN OVER SATELLITE RULE POLICIES

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Diplomats today reported signs of intensified wrangling among Soviet leaders and among Iron Curtain officials generally over Russia's satellite policies.

The dispute centers on this question: Should Russia relax its grip on the satellites, as it has in Poland, or rule with an iron fist as it is doing in Hungary and others? The conflict promises to grow.

THE STATE Department was watching particularly for the outcome of current talks in Moscow between Kremlin leaders and a delegation from Poland led by Communist party boss Wladyslaw Gomułka. These talks should provide the first hand evidence of whether Russia is willing to go farther toward granting its satellites more independence.

Moscow has shown in Hungary how far it will not go — it will not let a satellite spin entirely out of the Communist sphere.

New support for reports of a Kremlin split on the satellite control question was provided by a speech of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia which was publicized Thursday.

Tito charged that "Stalinist forces" in the Kremlin are holding out against "democratization" of the satellites. He blamed them for making the "fatal error" of using Russian troops to crush the Hungarian rebellion.

TITO DENIED Yugoslavia was responsible for the rebellion. But he said there are those—apparently in Moscow—who are again beginning to bully Yugoslavia.

Tito named no names, but experts here believed he referred to Russia's ex-Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, a long-time Stalinist who has been a Tito foe since Yugoslavia broke with Moscow in 1948. Molotov is believed to be the leading opponent of relaxation of Russian control of other satellites.

Nehru Charges Allies 'Plot' to Hold Suez Canal

NEW DELHI, (AP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru accused Britain and France today of plotting to maintain their occupation of the Suez Canal Zone and warned the situation may still develop into a "major war."

Nehru told Parliament there was "no intent on the part of the aggressors to withdraw their forces from Egypt . . . They have no intention of leaving."

Nehru said it was "obvious that 'improvement' in the Suez situation since the shooting stopped but he said there were numerous tendencies which "could lead to a reversion to warfare" which "might develop into a major war."

Ike Holds First Cabinet Session Since Election

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Eisenhower met with his Cabinet today for the first time since his reelection.

Members attending the one hour and 40 minute session declined to tell reporters whether any resignations were discussed. They referred questioners to White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty said "no mention" was made of possible departures from the Cabinet while he was present at the session.

All Cabinet members previously had gone through the traditional formality of submitting their resignations after the election.

So far none apparently has been accepted. Hagerty said Thursday he knew of no plans to accept any.

Snowstorm Puts Coat of Ice on Upper Midwest

By UNITED PRESS

A heavy snowstorm swirled into the upper reaches of the Midwest today after howling across the Northern Plains, coating roads with packed ice and snow and causing at least three traffic deaths.

The dead were motorists who were unable to control their skidding autos on the glazed highways.

MEANWHILE, the coldest weather of the season pushed eastward, causing thermometers to nose dive through Ohio in the north and Mississippi in the south.

All of the central portion of the nation except the Northwest was gripped by the cold snap.

Instructor Who Used Bayonet On Marine Recruit Gets Year

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., (AP) — A general court martial today sentenced former Marine drill instructor Frederick A. Renton to a year at hard labor and a bad conduct discharge for using a naked bayonet to force recruits to perform physical feats.

The court announced the sentence after deliberating a verdict of guilty handed down Thursday on four of 16 counts against 19-year-old Renton of New York City.

The verdict and punishment are subject to review by higher military authority.

THE 10-MEMBER court, which deliberated the sentence nearly an

But Rebels Still Continue Their Strike

Refuse 'Ultimate' Troop Withdrawal, New Government

VIENNA, (AP) — Hungary's Soviet sponsored Premier János Kadar reportedly offered ultimate withdrawal of Soviet troops from the country and formation of a coalition government in sweeping new concessions to anti-Red insurgents today.

But the defiant rebel groups continued their general strike and insisted it would remain in effect until all Soviet troops actually are withdrawn.

AT THE SAME time, the government controlled Radio Budapest broadcast Yugoslav President Tito's charge that the Russians were responsible for the Hungarian revolution.

In a speech delivered Sunday and released Thursday Tito said the Russians promised to pull their troops out of Hungary as soon as order has been restored.

These moves by the Kadar regime apparently were still more desperate efforts to win some form of popular backing and woo rebel workers back to their jobs.

RELIABLE SOURCES in Budapest said Kadar offered these concessions in talks with the Central Workers' Council of Greater Budapest and with the leaders of the so-called "Petofi" or National Peasants party and other groups:

1. A three-phase withdrawal of Soviet troops.

2. Formation of a coalition government including non-Communist parties.

Under the reported withdrawal plan, the Red Army troops would retire first to their barracks in Budapest, then to their normal bases in the country. All reinforcements sent from Russia since the fighting began would return home immediately.

At the same time, Kadar would begin immediate negotiations for Hungarian withdrawal from the Warsaw pact, one of the last attempted acts of the ousted government of ex-Premier Imre Nagy before the Soviet attack Nov. 4.

The Social Democrats were reported to have agreed to participate in the government if Nagy returned as premier, and even to joint electoral lists with the Communists. Acceptance of such a merger by the Social Democrats in Soviet occupied East Germany resulted in the party being swallowed by the Communists there.

But the Revolutionary Council of University Youth refused even to discuss Kadar's concessions and called for total fulfillment of all its demands.

Even the Soviet Tass news agency in a dispatch from Budapest admitted that the general strike continued to paralyze the ruined capital and most of the country.

Rescuers Start For Crash Scene

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, (AP) — Rescue crews set out today for the rough mountain country 35 miles northwest of here where 25 persons were killed when their airliner crashed in flames.

One passenger lived for several hours after the crash Thursday. He was picked up near the wreckage of the Guest Airlines four-engine transport by an American pilot of a crop-spraying plane. Fown to a hospital in Managua, he died Thursday night.

The plane was carrying 20 passengers and a crew of five from Panama to Mexico City via Guatemala. They included eight women and two infants.

Saboteurs Strike at Water Supply of Port Said Troops

LONDON, (AP) — Saboteurs struck at the water supply for Anglo-French troops in Port Said and mines were reported laid by Egypt in Alexandria harbor today to threaten the uneasy cease fire in the Middle East.

These developments came as U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld flew to Egypt for talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the worsening diplomatic tensions which could set off another round of war.

HAMMARSKJÖLD rode a train from Naples, Italy, to Abu Suweir Air Base with one contingent of the U.N. police force set up to supervise the Egyptian cease fire. He inspected the units there briefly, and then went on by plane to Cairo and his critical discussions with Nasser.

IN LONDON, the British government said that saboteurs in Egyptian-held territory had breached the walls of the Sweetwater Canal, Port Said's only fresh water source, during the night in an apparent attempt to blockade Anglo-French troops occupying the city.

The sabotage disclosure was followed shortly afterwards by a separate announcement from the British Admiralty here that "information has been received that Egyptian authorities have laid mines in the approaches to Alexandria."

BOTH LONDON statements coincided with another Anglo-French announcement in Port Said that a joint command is being formed to reopen the Suez Canal, apparently from both ends.

Only the north end of the 101-mile waterway is now in Allied hands. Official sources said the sabotage action may be considered a violation of the cease fire agreement.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the water level dropped dangerously this morning at the Port Said end of the Sweetwater Canal, which carries drinking water to the arid Suez Canal Zone from the Nile River to Cairo.

EXPERTS SAID the Allies might be able to support their own troops by sending water aboard ships from Cyprus to Port Said. But there was little chance that the city's entire population of about 180,000 persons could subsist on imported supplies.

U. N. Again Bars Red China Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., (AP) — The U. N. General Assembly refused today to consider the question of seating Communist China. It also barred further debate on the question for another year.

A move by India's delegate V. K. Krishna Menon for full debate on China's representation was defeated 45 to 25 with nine abstentions.

The assembly passed a U. S. resolution to bar further debate on the issue this session by a vote of 47 to 24, with eight abstentions.

Mounted Police Set Feb. 1-2 for Annual Rodeo

Palm Springs Mounted Police have set Feb. 1 and 2 as the date for the posse's sponsored 17th annual Palm Springs Rodeo.

The announcement was made following the election of officers of the organization at its regular meeting at the Los Compadres Club house Wednesday night.

Joe Butler, manager of Safeway store and longtime member of the organization, was elected head of the mounted group, replacing Kenny Paul as captain.

Other officers include Cliff Campbell, first lieutenant; Fred Ross, secretary (re-elected); and directors, Dr. Bill Aikin, Bill Moore, Charles Thomas, and outgoing chairman Kenny Paul.

The group appointed George Rasmussen as chairman of the Rodeo Parade, which will be held on Saturday, Feb. 2.

Kenny Paul was appointed chairman of the Rodeo, and Mac McDonald will be his assistant.

The Mounted Police have for the past six years sponsored the local Rodeo, and each year the event has grown in attendance. Profits from the sale of tickets to the Rodeo are used by the Mounted Police to add rescue equipment to the already most completely equipped rescue unit organization in the area.

Denies Red Aid Arrived in Syria

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syrian Foreign Minister Salah Al Bitar today denied reports that Soviet jet planes, pilots and "volunteers" have arrived in Syria.

Such reports may have been started to stir up anti-Arab feeling in the United States, Bitar suggested in an interview with United Press.

Dock Workers Go on Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-five thousand members of the International Longshoremen's Association went on strike today in the Port of New York.

Indian Woman, Jailed for 3 Months, Learns She is Eligible for $20,000

SACRAMENTO, (AP) — A woman member of the Klamath Indian tribe worth between $20,000 and $40,000 today has three months in county jail to ponder the sum.

Mrs. Louisa Baker Felix, 50, who received the Superior Court sentence Thursday for stabbing a man in a bar tussle last month, was told of her right to the money by the county probation office.

Officials said that since federal supervision over the Klamath band ceases in August, 1958, the tribeswoman can leave the group and pocket a portion of its total assets. Federal spokesmen said her share would be between $20,000 and $40,000.

In county jail, Mrs. Baker said all she wants to do now is "get out and go home to Klamath Falls, Ore., to build a house."

Tree Program

TOLEDO, O. (AP) — Foresters destroyed some 300 trees during July and August in an attempt to rid the city of Dutch elm disease. Joseph A. Sweeney, forestry superintendent, said 142 trees were removed and 159 others were cut down to stumps.

A LARGE NUMBER of parents attended the Open House celebration of St. Theresa School last night, with one of the highlights of the many exhibits being the television show of "The Odyssey" presented by the sixth grade class. Each child painted a different scene depicting the adventures of Ulysses, and several worked on the construction of the television set. A sound truck prepared by the students accompanied the show. WHEN you sit down for your THANKSGIVING DINNER chances are you will enjoy a bird who never saw its mother GONE are the days when mother Gobbler took time out to hatch her brood.
TODAY'S poulters are hatched by the thousands in efficient electric incubators. They emerge from their shells by the tray-full rather than in small broods. ELECTRICITY has become a first-rate foster mother. The even and constant temperature of the electric incubator not only hatches more birds, it achieves a much higher percentage of hatchable eggs. Cathedral City CofC Discusses Town Hall, Publicity, Electricity

Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce discussed a variety of subjects at its regular meeting, involving the town hall, additional publicity for the community, raising of additional funds for Chamber use, and flood control.

A flood control meeting was set for Tuesday, Dec. 4, at which time the three-man board of Zone 6 will be present to discuss the flood control situation for the entire area. The public is invited, and the Cathedral City Chamber will hold an adjourned meeting after the close of the discussion.

Committees in charge were asked by President Orvil Zappe to conduct studies of the town hall situation, ways to raise additional revenue for the Chamber, ways to better advertise the community, and whether or not Chamber dues should be increased.

Zappe, together with Secretary Warner S. Moon, was authorized to sign the escrow agreements transferring Sunair Park from the Chamber to Walter Melrose, in accord with action taken at the previous meeting.

The Chamber membership declined to join the Rancho Mirage Chamber in a formal complaint to the State Public Utilities Commission for lower electrical rates. At the meeting was Francis Crocker, Calectric district manager, who discussed power costs.

1. Daffodils are a good investment, for their quality hold up from year to year. The largest bulbs, which cost a little more per dozen are actually the best value.
2. Don't forget the Ranunculus and Anemone. Each bulb will produce a great many flowers.
3. This is the time for the fall garden cleanup. Rake up all leaves and place them in a compost pile. Spray the entire garden with a fall cleanup spray.

THE COMPLETE, ULTIMATE master plan for the Palm Springs airport, just as it will be presented to the Agua Caliente Tribal Council and City Council Monday, and then to the people in hearings before the Planning Commission, is pictured above. The cost of the project is not completed at this date. The numbered arrows indicate: (1) the present terminal building which under this plan will be improved for the same use, and then, after the new terminal is completed, will be a pilot's lounge; (2) Location of the new terminal and tower; (3) Site of the Heliport (top) and site of the Airport Inn and non-aviation revenue uses; (4) The site of the new city hall; (5) Five spaces for parking big planes on airport aprons; (6) The north-south runway which may be eliminated or used only as a taxiway. Along with plans for parking of automobiles, the plot includes area for fuel storage, hangars, and tie-down areas. An artist's conception of how the remodeled terminal building interior will look when it is completed on its present site is shown inset in the master plan. The building, when the master plan is finished, will be a pilot's lounge. This view is looking west toward the landing strips, and at right are the proposed airline offices and ticket counters.

Plans for Future Expansion of Palm Springs' Airport, Additional Airline Service Disclosed; Program May Take 10 Years, Expert Says

By FRED C. WEIGEL
A master plan review and terminal area development program for the Palm Springs Municipal Airport has been completed by Leigh Fisher & Associates, airport consultants, and is ready for review by the Agua Caliente Indian Tribal Council and the City Council at their joint meeting of Nov. 19.

The study covers requirements and master plan program for development of the landing, building and hangar, and terminal building areas at the airport site.

Two complete programs, which in themselves dovetail as a completed master plan, are included in the plans. One, an interim plan, which is necessary because of the soon expected added airline facilities, can be put into immediate effect, and will be consolidated within the future master plan.

After the proposal is discussed between the Indian council and the city council, it will go to the Planning Commission for public hearings.

Even with the large amount of procedure to be completed first, plans call for the project to get underway sometime around the first of the year. The master plan could conceivably take nine years for completion.

Major improvements will include an 800 foot extension of the main northwest, southeast runway; a new terminal building and tower; the interim plan will improve the present terminal and later change it to a pilot's lounge; widening of the apron in front of the new terminal building to afford the parking of at least five big planes in front of the terminal; building of a Heliport; providing of ample parking; and providing a site for an airport inn (hotel) and other non-aviation revenue uses.

The master plan layout, although complete, is subject to changes and revisions before it is finalized and work is started.

HISTORY OF THE airport development begins with the leasing of 640 acres by the City of Palm Springs from the Agua Caliente Indian Tribe in 1941, and airport construction under the program "Development of Landing Areas for National Defense" was conducted by the Civil Aeronautics Authority. The airport then was turned over to the city.

The airport was leased to the Army Air Force during World War II, and further extended, partly on land purchased by the Army Air Force and partly on land leased by the Army Air Force. The airport was turned over to the city by War Assets Deed at the end of the war and leased by the city to Mary B. Nelson.

In January, 1952, the city leased the airport to Aero-Palm Springs, Inc., and in January 1953, the Haskell Brothers bought controlling interest in Aero-Palm Springs. They are the present operators of the properties.

The City of Palm Springs is using part of the area as a Civic Center, with a new city hall now under construction and nearly completed on the site.

IT WAS A GREAT OPPORTUNITY

To have had a part in the construction, following closely the design of J. S. Pawling's home. With our contributions, using only the best of material to carry out the unusual motif in this residence. It is our belief that this home embodies all that is desirable in our way of life here on the desert. Once again, we are indeed grateful to have had the opportunity to have worked so closely in the construction and refinement of this beautiful residential structure.

Women Golfers See Minstrel Show at Big Awards Dinner

The awards dinner Wednesday night, which wound up the Sixth Annual Women's Invitational Golf Tournament at Thunderbird was a happy mixture of winners selecting their prizes from a treasure-laden table, hungry golfers lining up for the chuckwagon, and laughing uproariously at the wonderful Camp-town Jamboree, presented by Hoagy Carmichael and Company of blackface minstrel men.

The stage and the tables were set up in the pavilion and the awarding of prizes took place before dinner. Ruth McCullah, field low gross winner, chose a TV set as her prize, while Betty Loveys, field low net, decided on the Hi-Fi. V. Morton first flight low gross, selected a silver tea service, while Mousie Powell, 2nd flight low gross, decided upon a watch; Mrs. M. Funsinn, Thunderbird flight low gross, a coffee urn; Pat Cox, championship flight low net, a set of irons.

The excellent chuckwagon buffet featured a hearty fare of prime rib and baked beans, spaghetti, salads, fruit bowl, and apple pie with cheese.

Helen Detwiler at the microphone, announced the winners, and expressed appreciation to tournament chairman Phyllis Froggatt and her assistants Emily DeWare, Mickey Von Zell, Ruth Manseau, and to June Clark and her show committee, Robin Barnes, Judy Howard and Hoagy Carmichael.

Hoagy Carmichael was dazzling in a white outfit, golden cummerbund and a yellow top hat, acting as interloper for the show, for which he had written special lyrics. It was pure corn in the sophisticated manner, and no one had more fun than the hard-working cast of trouper, who donned blackface and acted as minstrel men and as High Yellow Kickers in the chorus line. Ruby and Bobbie Meyers, their matching pink satin gowns and pink jewelry a delightful contrast to their browned skin, harmonized delightfully. Irene Hines, in frock coat and top hat was the singing preacher, doing a pantomime song. Hoagy and Tex Kidwell did a routine, with Hoagy saying to Tex "that's singing?" and Tex saying to Hoagy "that's piano playing?" There was a scene in Thunderbird caddy shop that was probably the funniest in the show, and Hoagy's songs were the one about "Rosebud Magee, who weighed 303," and one with a jungle drum rhythm about the monkey and the missionary.

Minstrel men in the show were: Judy Howard, Maggie Hies, Irene Hines, Jane Wade, Robin Barnes, Delphine Weimar, Daphne Tuma, and the extra chorus girls included Lucy Long, Georgina Poston, and Ruby Meyers.

The finale, Camp-town Jamboree brought enthusiastic plaudits from the audience.

want fun mixed with it . . . For those seeking entertainment . . . or some new way to amuse those weekend houseguests . . . the just-completed Joe Pawling house on Hermosa Place . . . promises to be a mecca for the next ten days . . . Those of us who have seen it . . . still don't quite believe it . . . It's a wonderful opportunity to satisfy a healthy curiosity about one of Palm Springs newest and most unusual houses . . . and at the same time assist in the great work that WAIF is doing . . . This is something people are going to be talking about for some time to come . . .

Workmen are rushing to get the finishing touches on the Joe Pawling house . . . and Arthur Elrod and his staff are installing the furnishings . . . in preparation for tomorrow's opening of the house tours . . . which are being sponsored by Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF . . . as their first fund-raising event . . .

There are always last minute upsets . . . and when a Los Angeles carpet factory burned 10 days ago . . . with the drapes and some of the furnishings lost in the flames . . . it pushed Elrod to get replacements . . . but he has . . . and Joe tells me the house will be ready for tomorrow's opening . . .

Just arrived is a gorgeous macaw from Africa . . . that will occupy a perch in the living room . . . The rare and expensive bird (he cost $750) is in the house colors . . . with sapphire and golden plumage, accented by black and white . . . adding one more exotic note to this unusual house . . .

The house tour is open to the public starting tomorrow for 10 days . . . with dollar tickets available at the door . . . Each afternoon there will be a different fashion show . . . and music for dancing . . . Members of the Palm Springs WAIF's will act as hostesses for the tours . . .

The all-gas kitchen is something every home maker will find fascinating . . . and, of course, Southern California Gas Company thinks so too . . . On November 20 they are flying down a plane load of Los Angeles press to tour the house . . . These will include Jim Toland, editor of Home Magazine; Caroline Murray of House Beautiful; and Barbara Hamill of Sunset . . . The visiting and local press will have luncheon at the Oasis before the tour . . .

Babe Churchill and Virginia and Pliny Proctor have sent out invitations for a Sunday brunch . . . to be held at the Churchill house on San Lorenzo Road . . . Tom Neal has a new role these days . . . that of businessman, husband and father-to-be and seems to be thriving on it . . . Tom is married to the former Pat Fenton (United Airlines employee) and they are expecting to be a three-some by March . . . I saw the two of them dining at Don the Beachcomber the other evening . . . and Tom told me he's engaged in the landscaping business in Palm Springs . . .

Louise and Maury Horner have invited a small group . . . for cocktails on the evening of November 23 . . . to meet the Julius Sterns of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania . . . Stern, brother of Maury's sister-in-law Dorothy Horner, is in California taking his Masters degree at UCLA . . . after retiring from business . . . He was a department store owner in Wilkes-Barre . . .

When one of America's foremost writers makes an exploratory trip up the dangerous Colorado River . . . it's news . . . and it's pretty exciting to have a Villager in the expedition making the trip . . . Anita Haskell Jones is just back in the Village . . . after taking part in the expedition which was headed by Erle Stanley Gardner (he writes all those Perry Mason whodunits) . . . The party also included Gardner's assistant Sam Hicks . . . and his two secretaries, Jean Bethel (she's Della Street's prototype) and Agnes Bell . . . The expedition went in near Davis Dam . . . embarking at Katherine Cove . . . and traveled upriver in small boats as far as they could go . . . to Willow Beach

THE ROYAL ROGUES, renowned as America's Monday. This is a repeat performance as the greatest singing group, will entertain when Palm Springs Woman's Club holds its Escorts Night

. . . Rapids and narrow stretches of the river between sheer rock walls . . . winding through rugged country make the Colorado River one that has not been much traveled . . . The party put into coves and camped out at night . . . in locations that can't be reached by road . . . They saw wild bobcats, burros, coyotes and sheep . . . near some of their camping places . . . The exploration trip lasted six days . . . and you'll probably be reading more about it . . .

Dr. Smiley Blanton, head psychiatrist for Norman Vincent Peale, who wrote the best seller "Love or Perish" . . . was honored at a small dinner and cocktail party at the San Chez home Tuesday evening . . . Other guests were Frankie and Oliver Jaynes, Mrs. Norma Leonard of Oxnard . . . and Mrs. Bert Jackson of Apple Valley . . . BJ talked with Belmont and the Al Hunts in Tokyo Sunday night . . . and they report they're having a ball on their cruise to the Orient . . . despite the fact that Belmont was seasick for two days . . . It's only because she's a poor sailor that she didn't make the trip too . . . BJ commented on this . . . "If he was seasick . . . I would have been hospitalized" . . .

The three Palm Springsers were much entertained in Honolulu . . . They were only there one day . . . but it was a busy one . . . Laura Bankhead Clark entertained for

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

MELBOURNE, (UP) — Lt. Parry O'Brien of the U.S. Air Force is fairly certain what he'll be doing the next three months but after that his plans are up in the sky like the shot putt he heaves regularly to astounding world records.

Current developments are certain. First he'll sleep the next few weeks in the middle of a littered equipment room, because only there can he find privacy from the disturbing snores of his Olympic teammates.

NEXT HE'LL set a new Olympic record in the international games, breaking his own 1952 mark of 57 feet, one and one half inches. This is a cinch, because only two other men have shaded 60 feet in the shot putt while Parry has bettered 62 feet a total of eight times—and tossed it a fantastic 63 feet, two inches.

After that he'll make a tour of the Far East for the State Department and then he'll go home to get discharged from the Air Force.

"MY WIFE, Sandra, and I live in a trailer," Parry said. "First of all I'm going to get some rest, play some golf and try to break 80, do a bit of horseback riding and try my hand at driving in some sports car races."

What happens then is anybody's guess, said the blue-eyed giant who stands six-foot-three and weighs 230 pounds.

"I MIGHT GO into selling," he said, discarding the night mask he wears to keep light out of his eyes while sleeping. "Or maybe public relations."

But there are those who think the former University of Southern California athlete might go into professional football.

HE WAS A freshman halfback at Southern California before turning to track and only recently ran the 100-yard dash in 10.7. Two professional teams have been after him with the idea of making him into a line-busting fullback.

O'Brien is rated among the "sure winners" in the approaching Olympics and is expected to pace an American sweep of the shot putt. His 63 foot heave was equivalent among weight men to a 3-40 mile or a 17 foot pole vault. Something, in other words, which simply couldn't be done.

INDIANS END SEASON AGAINST BEAUMONT HI

By LINDSEY NIELSON

Coach Clare Ballagh's hot and cold Indians will wind it up tonight when they face the Cougars of Beaumont High School on the local gridiron starting at 8 o'clock.

A colorful program is on tap for the fans as homecoming festivities for Palm Springs High will be featured.

Beaumont will go into the game as heavy favorites to win as they have displayed a strong scoring punch all year and their foe, Sumnercamp, is up for all Riverside County League honors.

The Indians have displayed potential power all year and Ballagh hopes it will tell in tonight's encounter.

It will be the final game for the seniors on the squad and Ballagh is considering starting an all-senior team against the Cougars.

The homecoming celebration started early with a Color Day and will culminate in an after-game dance when the Queen will be chosen. The five princesses from whom the Queen will be chosen are Peggy Schuler, Theola Niel, Neenah Hall, Karol Himes and Stephanie Bruton.

A colorful half-time program has been lined up. Sue Arnsberg has arranged the program and organized the festivities. Howard Pampin and his band will provide the music for the after game dance.

A large gathering of fans is expected in the stands for the final game.

U.S., Russia Sign Pact for Track Meets

MELBOURNE, (UP) — The United States and Russia today agreed to home and home track meets at Moscow in 1957 and in the United States in 1958.

The agreement was reached at a morning meeting of eight U.S. officials headed by AAU Secretary Daniel J. Ferris and a group of Russian officials.

"It all depends on whether the State Department rescinds the alien fingerprint law because the Russians won't stand for their visiting athletes to be fingerprinted," said Ferris. "But we had previous assurances from the State Department that the law is to be rescinded."

Konstantin Kroupin, president of the Soviet Athletic Union, broached the idea verbally and said it will be confirmed later with a written agreement.

Attending the meeting in the Russian quarters, at which vodka and cola were the chief beverages, were Americans Ferris, track coach Jim Kelly and his assistants and Russians Kroupin, head coach Leonid Khomenkov, women's coach Galina Torova, chief sprint coach Gabriel Korobkov and others.

JVS DEFEAT BEAUMONT 18-13 IN FINAL GAME

Coach Alfred Kamire's Palm Springs High Junior Varsity wound up a highly successful season last night at Beaumont when they bopped their hosts 18-13, in what was easily the most exciting game on their schedule. The victory left them with a 5-1 record and second place in Jayvee ratings in the Riverside County League.

Gary Eastin wound up the season the way he started — with a long run for a TD. On the first play from scrimmage Eastin took off downfield for 82 yards and a six-pointer. The conversion failed but the Papoose outfit was in front, 6-0.

Later in the first quarter Jack Norris kept the ball on an option play and went 37 yards into the end zone to make it 12-0 as the quarter ended.

Beaumont made it 12-6 in the second quarter after a 60-yard sustained drive.

Holland added the clincher when he went 11 yards for the score which put the Paposes out in front 18-6.

In the nip and tuck battle which followed Beaumont finally put one over and made the only conversion of the game. Neither team could muster a sustained drive after that and the game ended 18-13 with the local lads on the long end.

Look how much the Big M has grown for 1957—in size, power, weight—in everything that counts in a car!

NEW WIDTH—Notice how the Big M's new breadth is dramatized by a massive new Jet-Flo Bumper. The oval shape of this graceful new bumper design is as functional as it is beautiful. It acts as a double bumper—provides both high and low protection. Notice the matching "twin"-styled rear bumper (right).

NEW OVERSIZED INTERIORS—There's more comfort in the front and back seats of the new Big M. There's new hip room and leg room. As much shoulder room, for example, as in many of the most expensive cars. The floor is now recessed between the frame. The result: more headroom than ever before.

NEW LENGTH, NEW WHEELBASE—CLOSE TO TWO-TONS BIG. Every important dimension is bigger. In addition to the new length, wheelbase is a big 122 inches. And the 1957 Mercurys are up to 225 pounds heavier, too. A far lower center of gravity gives you an amazing sense of "nailed-down" stability on curves and corners.

NEW POWER—UP TO 290 HP

A 255-hp Safety-Surge engine is standard. A 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8 is optional. And there are two Mercury engine "firsts." A Thermo-matic Carburetor controls the temperature of air the engine breathes. The results: extra power and economy. And, in the Montclair series, a Power-Booster Fan coasts when not needed for cooling—saves horsepower.

NEW DREAM-CAR DESIGN

1957's most advanced styling—a clean-cut, dynamic look that makes other cars look old-fashioned. The roof is gracefully slender—sweeps back out over the rear window to provide extra headroom. The tail-lights have an imaginative V-angle slant. Here's America's first production dream car—styling that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

DRAMATIC NEW FEATURES

Everywhere you look there's a new idea: an exclusive 7-position Keyboard Control that outdates ordinary, push-button transmissions, an exclusive Floating Ride with a cushioning action you have to feel to believe. You can even get a power seat that "remembers"—turn a dial and it finds your favorite seat position. But see everything. Stop in today.

We invite you to see this straight-out-of-tomorrow car today at our showroom.

FREEDOM OF CHOICE

Union leaders oppose "Right to Work" legislation largely on the grounds that survival of their organization depends upon compulsory membership. They would make people believe that anyone favoring "right to work" legislation is trying to destroy unionism. The facts are that such legislation is designed only to prevent organized labor from becoming a monopoly which, in the long run, would likely hurt unionism more than it would help. In absolute power, unionism can develop its greatest weakness. Unrestricted power leads to excesses and abuses.

Unions are recognized by almost everyone as a necessary part of the industrial and economic life of the nation. Those who believe in "right to work" laws—and some union members themselves—have no idea that such laws will endanger the benefits of unionism.

Compulsory union membership has been held to be unconstitutional and is certainly not in keeping with the spirit of the Constitution. "It is a part of American heritage that, so long as an individual does not violate the law or infringe upon the rights of others, he has the right to do as he pleases. The principle of compulsion in matters that belong in the field of human volition is repugnant to the idea of individual human worth and to man's freedom of choice." In these words, Judge C. E. Nelson of Texas, who declared union shop agreements to be in violation of the Federal constitution, expressed the feelings of many unprejudiced Americans. This must not in any manner, he said, be considered an assault on labor unions.

Experience in Iowa

Iowa's "Right to Work" law now in its eighth year shows clearly that labor unions can continue to flourish under such legislation. It has four main provisions:

- 1.) No person shall be deprived of the right to work at his chosen occupation for any employer because of membership in, withdrawal from or refusal to join any labor union. 2.) It is unlawful for any employer to deny employment to any person because of membership in or withdrawal from a labor union, or because of refusal to join a union. 3.) It is unlawful for an employer or union to enter into any kind of an agreement that would exclude from employment either union members or persons who do not belong to a union, or refuse to join, or have withdrawn from membership. 4.) It is unlawful for an employer or union to require any person to pay dues or other fees to a union as a prerequisite or condition of employment.

These provisions that make compulsory unionism unlawful in Iowa have proven to be sound and have met with increasing public approval. They can be applied in Palm Springs with the same success if union leaders will not persist in the contention that such legislation will destroy unionism—and is designed for that very purpose.

This law merely preserves one of the most precious rights guaranteed us under the Federal Constitution—our freedom of choice.

HAZARD OF TRASH

From the Dallas (Pa.) Post

In the horse-and-buggy days, flying trash—especially wind-borne newspapers—was a frequent cause of runaways. Quaint as it sounds, you'd think such accidents were a thing of the past, but they're not! Today trash on the highways kills and maims more people than ever before. The Western Insurance Information Service reports from 750 to 1,000 deaths and nearly 100,000 serious injuries are caused every year by cars striking objects thrown on the road by litterbugs.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Mitzi Bares Everything

In "Les Girls," Cole Porter's new tune film for M-G-M, Mitzi Gaynor will play a minister's daughter who joins the Follies Bergere chorus in Paris and bares EVERYTHING! ... Well, nearly everything! ... Speaking of France, Hollywood's musicals have been utter flops, with very few exceptions, in that country of late. Hence, 20th-Fox will "demusicalize" the best musical it's made in years, "The King and I," for the French market. Studio will keep "The Small House of Uncle Thomas" in the French footage but the rest of the musical numbers are out, kaput, fini.

John Wayne's new deal with 20th-Fox is fabulous. It adds up to a straight $650,000 for four pictures. But Duke has nixed every script submitted to him by that lot to date. ... Duke's ambition in the long run, incidentally, is to direct. It's between Spencer Tracy and Frederic March for "The Last Hurrah" ... Jayne Mansfield can't be so dumb. She spurned the role that Barbara Bel Geddes accepted in Broadway's "The Sleeping Prince" and it's been getting lousy reviews. ... A friend of mine in New York writes: "The Sleeping Prince" is a play for all those who wax ecstatic over the Second Hungarian Rhapsody, the 'William Tell' Overture and Libera's piano-playing — also for those who thrill to the passionate prose of Edna Ferber and who complain that the Saturday Evening Post ain't what it used to be!"

DOWN MEMORY'S. Drain: Michael Arlen, who died about six months ago, was once asked to write the ideal "lead" for a short story — the kind of an opening that would make any reader keep right on reading no matter what! This is what he came up with: "Hell!" said the Duchess."

Tom O'Neil, the new boss at RKO, is unusual among movie studio bosses. He has a master's degree in theology from Catholic University ... Letter from Boston: "They're labelling Lillian Hellman's 'Candide' in its tryout here an artistic success." Meaning it'll run three months on Broadway! ... Der Bingle dug brother Bob Crosby's new Dixieland album for Coral Records so deep, he's touting it to deejays cross-country. Anna Maria Alberghetti carries Count Alberto Mochi's photo around in her purse so it must be love ... Alberto, incidentally, looks like Bob Stack ... And Anna Maria, incidentally, will be incorporated when she turns 21 in May ... Cecil B. DeMille didn't know until I told him that Rabbi Solomon Goldman of Chicago's Anshe Emet Synagogue has written a book called "The Ten Commandments," that it's being published by Phoenix Books, and that it has nothing whatever to do with DeMille's magnificent new movie of the same title.

DR. PAUL CZINNER shot the Russian's Bolshoi Ballet doing "Giselle" in London, in color. Shooting season ran all night. It will be released as a regular two-hour feature film to theaters.

Mickey Scoop may scam his post as head of music publishers Robbins, Feist and Miller, following a stormy session with the new proxy of Loew's, Joe Vogel. But Scoop, who inherited the $75,000-a-year job as head of the M-G-M music subsidiary from Abe Olman nine months ago, isn't too worried. He's but LOADED — via the accounting firm he heads up on the side ... Vogel, by the way, holds 23,300 shares of Loew's common stock, and that ain't sheet music ... Success formula: Don't quit looking for work after you've landed the job.

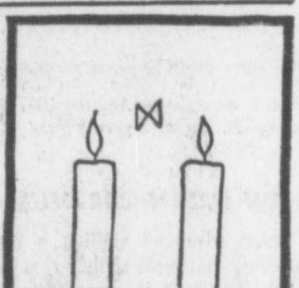

TV TOPICS — Mary Astor will star in "Sunset Boulevard" in NBC-TV's "Robert Montgomery Presents" Dec. 3 now that Gloria Swanson — who won an Academy Award nomination for her portrayal of the faded silent screen star in the movie version — has definitely turned it down because of prior commitments.

Richard Boone's contract with "Medic" has run its course so don't be surprised if Dick starts to endorse cigarettes and other such sundries that doctors usually shy away from ... Fess Parker will sing "Davy Crockett" in Japanese when he visits the Orient during the Christmas holidays for the opening of Walt Disney's "Davy Crockett" over there ... Broderick Crawford figures to mint a million over a five year period from his television series, "Highway Patrol."

Doodles

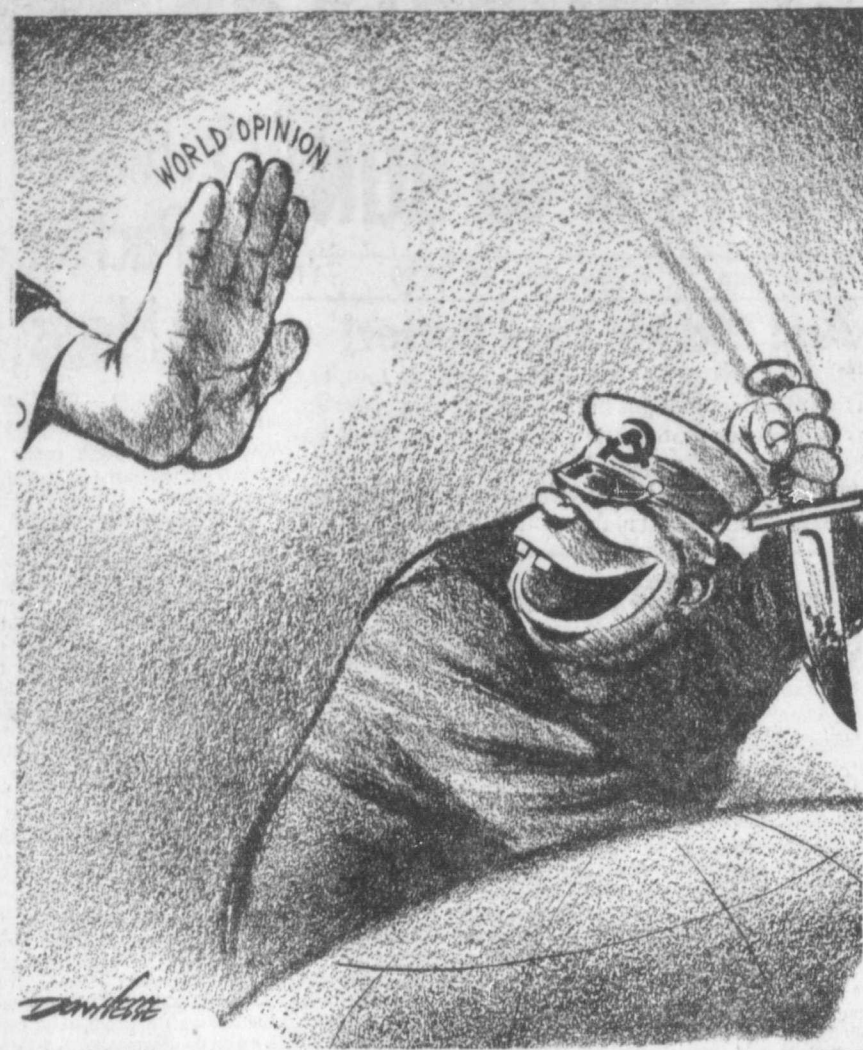

By ROGER PRICE

"MOTH BURNING HIS END AT BOTH CANDLES"

This Doodle was suggested by Mr. Mitropoulos, the friendly exterminator who fumigates for my landlady, Mrs. Goonsgarten. Mr. M. insists that one of these days he's going to quit the exterminating racket because the bugs are getting too smart for him. He claims he can't find the Termites any more since they've learned to chew with their mouths closed and he says that Walt Disney has given the Mice such a superiority complex they refuse to eat anything but poisoned caviar. He even had difficulty getting the moths out of my closet because he sprayed them with DDT but he finally managed to kill them with one of his "old fashioned" methods. He set fire to my suits.

'Yeah—I'm Touched Pal'

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Be it ever so humble
There's no place like home
I wish I was there for
I'm lacking a poem.
That was just a dry run. I hope to be loaded again tomorrow.

DELVING INTO the scientific side of things, do you know that if you sleep your prescribed eight hours, you are awake 16 hours a day, and that during that time you are in total darkness two hours, even if the sun is shining brightly?

That's because you blink probably every three seconds and a blink, according to Dr. N. K. Wesley, an authority on blinking, lasts 3-10 seconds for a man and 4-10 seconds for a woman. Leave it to them to make with the eyes. A nervous person will blink so much he's in darkness 40 per cent of the time. That's what puts a lot of us on the blink.

IF SO MANY people hadn't said it before, I'd remark that this is a small world. And it was proven again yesterday at Kenny DuBose's Thrifty 5 and 10.

Ruth Grueneich, on the staff there, waited on a woman who offered her a handful of coins to pay for the purchase, saying: "You pick it out. I do not know much about your American money."

When Mrs. Grueneich asked her where she was from, she said the Philippines. Mrs. Grueneich then said that she has a brother there, Donald Keeler, working with a big mining concern.

"Oh," said the customer, "I'm Maggie Smith and I know your brother well. I was their baby-sitter in the Philippines."

WRITING ABOUT Kenny DuBose reminds me that I understand an announcement is going to be made soon that he has sold his Village 5 and 10, keeping the Thrifty for himself.

And I also remember that about 15 years ago, I dropped into that Thrifty, trying to buy a bottle of vitamin tablets. Confused it with the drug store of that name.

Lloyd Simon tells me that he has received a letter from Herman Reich (remember him at the Village Market?) Reich is now in Utica, New York, has an excellent position with General Electric there.

COMES A COMMUNICATION this week about the disappointing showing at the recent Two County Blood Bank visit to the Village. Only 11 persons turned out to give pints of blood.

Said this gentleman: "Maybe the hours are wrong, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. I'd like to contribute and so would several other people I know—but they can't get away then. 'I'd suggest that the bank come once a month and stay here all day so that people could fix the hours when they could get there. If that's not possible, how about the hours from 2 to 4 p.m. I bet they'd get more.'"

Could be, too, as the guy once said, that many people haven't got enough blood in their alcohol stream.

INEZ ROBB:

Who Can Cast a Stone?

With your kind permission, I would like to have the floor today for a few kind words for Finland.

It seems odd that this small, sturdy nation of four million persons, who electrified the free world by standing up to the Russian colossus in 1939-40, should need understanding friends today.

But she does, for harsh words have been spoken and written about Finland since she abstained in the United Nations' General Assembly from voting to condemn Russian aggression in Hungary. This left one of the most truly democratic nations on earth in the uneasy company of the Arab bloc.

So, let's look at the record. During the first winter of the Second World War, there were a few illusory and inspiring months when it seemed possible that a democratic David could lick the Soviet Goliath.

In the end, the giant won. But, in the interim, the world saw in Finland — as it has just seen in Hungary — what men can and will endure to remain free. In death and destruction, Finland paid a fearful price, even as Hungary.

SOMEHOW, SHE managed to preserve her national identity, although burdened by a tremendous ($300,000,000) indemnity and deprived of Porkkala, Karelia and her rich nickel mines.

By chance I was in Finland 14 months ago when the Russians returned Porkkala to its rightful owners. The return followed a visit of Finland's then president, Juho Paasikivi, to Moscow, to the Kremlin had summoned him. The Finns were terrified that the Russian summons of Paasikivi meant new Russian demands.

"We live always on the razor's edge," many Finns told me at that time. "There is no certainty or security for us. We know now from experience that the willingness of a nation of 4,000,000 to fight and die is not enough against a nation of 200,000,000."

"WE ARE CONSCIOUS" always that Big Brother is watching.

ing us, like a cat with a mouse. We are glad that Porkkala is again ours. But we are not deceived. The Russians no longer need it as a base. Modern war has outmoded it. But if they should ever need it again, we do not fool ourselves. They will take it.

The razor's edge is not a comfortable place for permanent residency, but that's where the Finns live. They have been members of the United Nations scarcely a year. Many foresaw their difficulties in that international body. Many Finns were opposed to membership.

"We do not dare take sides," their arguments ran. "We must maintain our balance on the edge of the razor or perish. We can never openly follow our hearts and our convictions, and continue to exist."

This deeply democratic, gallant people walked the razor's edge the other day, and found itself in the company of strange bedfellows. But who, searching his conscience and the Finn's positions, can cast a stone?

There's a family man in town, many of them of course, but this one in particular has a special slant regarding these familiar groups.

He is none other than Jack Casey, 32-year-old owner of the big Rossmore Hotel. Sole owner of the establishment, he is pumping youthful enthusiasm into its operation with one viewpoint in mind — to make that hotel and its facilities more than a physical piece of real estate property in the resort city of Palm Springs.

He bounces at one when entering the Rossmore Hotel or the Celebrity Room as if the whole world depended on his greeting you as the biggest VIP in the city.

Today he came up with a new angle — family style dinners with a surprise entree every Monday night — "and the evening will be filled with music too," he added.

So if you want to meet a young man who shows every promise of being a great asset to this Palm Springs, drop by and just try and say a mere hello. You'll be showered with so much attention, a feeling will develop that you own the hotel instead of that young Irishman, Jack Casey.

THE PUBLISHED story under this reporter's by-line about Harold Hicks, his father, Alvah and Milt, was incomplete. Sometimes a reporter misses the same as most humans do, and I did when I forgot to mention that Henrietta Hicks Smith, the father's sister, also played no minor role in the picture of Palm Springs as it is today. "Aunt Etta," as Harold and Milt and their children call her, is just about the most lovable person one may meet here or anywhere in the world. Believe me, Auntie, I love you too.

You all saw the Nellie N. Coffman Junior High school band marching in the parade last Saturday. It was the first time these youngsters have marched in public playing their instruments. I expect Red Kenyon will be in my office but pronto with a copy of this letter and a swimming pool in which he would love to drown yours truly. Woe is me!

EARL WILSON:

NEW YORK—Nowadays a movie short is a film that only runs two hours.

Bing Crosby probably has it happen to him all the time. A gal in our office, Rene Glaser, picked up a phone. A voice said, "Is Oil there? This is Bing Crosby."

"Come on now, WHO IS THIS?" she demanded. When the voice insisted, she said to me exasperatedly, "Someone on the phone SAYS he's Bing Crosby!" It WAS Bing—returning my call. His brother, Everett, had told me Bing wasn't singing on Ed Sullivan's show.

"Everett's confused — which is typical," Bing said. He was thinking about a movie in which I won't sing. Just act."

What do you think of that idea? I asked Everett. "I think," he confessed, "it sounds a little crazy." Me too! Would Elvis Presley silence his golden throat?

DAWN ADDAMS AND her husband Prince Vittorio Massimo are from Italy and Dawn's surprised at the rash of cheeseecake pictures around. "When I did a bathtub scene in 'The Moon is Blue,'" she said, "it was hard for photographers to get girls to take their clothes off. Now it's hard for photographers to get girls to stop taking them off."

Nancy Kelly told us of a small boy who went to a wedding—and hated it. "What didn't you like about it?" he was asked. "THE KISSIN'!" he said scornfully.

THE B. W. WAS IN 21 on Election Night and, being fond of Mayor Bob Wagner because I'm supposed to resemble him, she asked one of Garry Moore's writers, Vinnie Bogard, if he'd voted for Wagner for U.S. Senator. "No, I didn't," he admitted. "I ..."

"Well, why didn't you?" she demanded angrily and launched an attack on him instantly. "I can't understand it. He's a fine man. He's been a good Mayor. WHY DIDN'T YOU VOTE FOR HIM?" She pointed an accusing finger.

"Because," he answered meekly, "I live in New Jersey."

Sam Levenson says it's no use nowadays to spell out things to your wife so that kids won't understand. They're too smart. "If you don't want them to hear what you're saying," says Sam, "pretend you're talking to them!"

SHEP FIELDS HAD come up from Houston for NBC-TV's "Bandstand." M.C. Bert Parks asked studio audience folks how they liked him. A gray-haired woman just adored him. "Is he as good as Lawrence Welk or Guy Lombardo?" Parks asked.

"They're O.K.," she replied enthusiastically, "but he's the greatest." My, you're quite a fan," said Parks.

They were grand and lovely to look at. Now comes a letter from Mrs. Helen Morris written in the form of a poem which is self explanatory:

"Dear Bill:
"Last year we bought robes for the chorus. They did and do, look grand. With people like you working for us
This year we'll outfit the band. "We're sticking to the Western Theme
And to our school colors too! Royal Blue Western Pants and Shirts
White cowboy hats banded with blue.
Of course this all takes money
So won't you be a honey
And send a check to us?
You'll be very proud of our boys and girls
As they gaily march in Parade
Wearing Western Togs, as the baton whirls.
With your help we've got it made."

"PLEASE," MRS. MORRIS appends this note, "make your checks payable to NNC Parent Guild. Thank you."
Well, here's a new one for Palm Springs. Manchon Pools who handle Catalina swimming pools in Las Vegas are negotiating for the construction of an office and equipment building. Which isn't startling news in itself. But the company here is coming up with something quite novel. It will have a full sized swimming pool in display in this proposed new building. Somethin' eh? Right now the company is engaged in the construction of swimming pools for William Darwin, contractor, two for a dude ranch at Palm Desert, and another one for Mannie Ryan of Ryan and Ryan. Pretty good for a company that has only recently hit Palm Springs.

I expect Red Kenyon will be in my office but pronto with a copy of this letter and a swimming pool in which he would love to drown yours truly. Woe is me!

"Yes, I've followed his career since it began," she said. "That's really remarkable!" explained Parks. "Remarkable!" the woman exclaimed right back. "For his mother!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ... Eugene O'Neill's widow, Carlotta Monterey, now living here, missed the opening of "Long Day's Journey Into Night" — being ordered to bed early by her doctor ... Ludwig Bemelmans spelled Christmas "Christmas" on some of his paintings exhibited at a Luchow's supper dance in his honor. "You're lucky," he said, "I spelled it that close" ... Nancy Kovack, ex-Miss Flint and one of Jackie Gleason's dancers, turned down a date with Elvis Presley when he introduced himself. "I don't know you," she said, "but next time when you ask me, I may say yes, because then I'll have known you."

Ina Claire turned down a play "Auntie Mame" in London "cause of all the changes. So why not Gypsy Rose Lee? ... Susan Johnson of "Happy Fella" is having a throat operation. Dick Haymes, headache collector, did a radio commercial about aspirin ... MMonroe promised to return for the birthday party of Eli Wallach's son, 6 ... Nat "King" Cole cracked on a note at the Copa and said kiddingly, "After all, I'm not Tony Bennett" ... Shirley Jones will fly to Canada with husband Jack Cassidy for a spectacular.

New East Side drink is "the Siberian"—vodka over frozen beer ... Eddie Fisher's proudly signing autographs. "Boy father" ... Mickey Mantle invited Ed (Harwyn) Wynn to shoot deer in Texas ... Lionel Hampton canceled his tour of Yugoslavia. Zsa Zsa arrives soon to discuss her autobiography with authoress Anita Loos ... Cadillacs are now called "Texas Volkswagens" ... Author David Alexander flew to Boston to doctor the new musical, "Candide" ... Remember Mrs. John Barrymore—Elaine Barry? She just wrote a book of love poems ... Tab Hunter bought actress Jan Chaney a fur stole.

EARL'S PEARLS ... A man doesn't object to a woman getting the last word. It's just that it takes her so long to get to it.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "New Yorkers are people who get acquainted with their neighbors by meeting them in Miami." — Marjor Steele.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Les Carpenter claims he saw this sign on an office door in Washington: "Meeting starts at 9 sharp. Ends at 11 dull."

"Some women," notes Steve Lawrence, "are at the dangerous time of life—just before the December fur sales." That's earl, brother.

Duck Gets Home

PRINCETON, Ind. (AP)—The sheriff and his deputies searched for the person who left a black and white duck tied by its feet on the doorstep of William McLemore residence. Adventist Church Here to Observe Week of Prayer

The Seventh-Day Adventist Church in Palm Springs announced today that it will observe a "Week of Prayer" in accordance with a worldwide prayer week set aside by the denomination many years ago. This prayer week has been faithfully observed through the years.

The purposes of the Adventist "Week of Prayer" are to seek God's help in world problems, to pray for wisdom to be granted to our country's president and other government leaders, to pray for the plight of the destitute of earth and for a genuine spiritual awakening of individual members.

Saturday, Nov. 17, marks the opening of this special week with a sermon by Pastor Duane Grimstad entitled, "The Sanctified Life."

The morning worship service is held at 11 a.m. at the church which is located on South Riverside Drive and Camino Real.

Rotary Hears Two Students From Middle East Explain Its Problems

Problems of the Middle East were explained to Rotarians this week by two young men who are natives of the area and presently attending Redlands University.

They were Alexander Ebeid, an Egyptian, and Elias Tuma, an Arabian who was reared in Palestine.

Ebeid told the Rotarians meeting at the Tennis Club that Egypt has many serious economic and social problems. Of the 23 million population, 18 million have been living in almost complete obscurity all their lives, he said. "The main problem is how to raise their standard of living."

THE WELL-EDUCATED Egyptian youth said that the reason back of President Nasser's decision to nationalize the Suez Canal was to obtain funds that would make possible a higher standard of living for Egypt's increasing population. The development of natural resources has increased only eight per cent while the population increased 50 per cent, he added.

Elias Tuma said that other nations must redefine their interest in the Middle East. They have to be realistic, he said; more nationalization is under way and the rights of these people must be recognized. He said that the Middle East with its oil and geographical position could determine the balance of power between the East and West.

THE SPEAKERS were introduced by Glenn Snyder, assistant to the president of Redlands University, and Blake Field was chairman of the program. Twenty-three visiting Rotarians attended the meeting and were introduced by Henry Baker.

Harry Harper, a former president of the Palm Springs club and now a member of Riverside Rotary, has been nominated District Governor of District No. 163, it was announced by President Jim Cavett.
